We are a firm of solicitors, based in Buckinghamshire, offering honest, trustworthy and clear advice along with the sort of personal service and attention to detail that our clients value. We take pride in serving you well. Every member of our team is committed to offering exceptional service and value for money. At Lennons Solicitors, our lawyers are specialists in their individual fields, but we are stronger still because we work together as a professional team ready to pool our knowledge to serve you more effectively. When you work with us, we will get to know you personally and treat you as a real person, not a file number. We will talk to you in plain English and avoid legal jargon. We will also explain our fee structure to you so that you will know how much you can expect to pay when you instruct us to act for you. Founded in 1983, our practice has offices in Chesham and Amersham. We know our local communities well and the issues that local residents and businesses face.
