Crime & Road Traffic Criminal solicitors Sutton Coldfield criminal lawyers EPO Lawyers, Sutton Coldfield have a large criminal law department dealing with clients who may have inadvertently placed themselves on the wrong side of the criminal law. EPO Lawyers is on call 24/7 providing expert personal advice and criminal lawyers at Police stations and Magistrates courts countrywide. We deal with serious fraud, white collar crime, as well as serious assaults, murders, sexual offences and all Road Traffic matters, including tachograph offences. EPO's criminal solicitors have an enviable reputation within the legal community for thorough investigation and diligence in relation to all their cases. We act also for mentally disabled clients and people suffering from complaints such as autism. Should your case progress to the Crown court or Court of Appeal, not only do we have our own Crown Court and other Higher courts advocate, but over the years we have developed strong links with the most successful Barristers chambers in the country who are eager to supply us with the pick of the best counsel to represent you. We are a Legal Services Commission accredited firm and in most cases you will be able to be represented free under a legal aid order, provided that you are financially eligible, and provided that your case passes the Government
