Virtual Typing Services is dedicated to helping companies meet their deadlines and achieve new business, whilst reducing their overheads. They offer a confidential, outsourced typing solution where all work is sent online via e-mail or through a secure encrypted website which can handle large files. Specialising in digital dictation/transcription VTS has worked with professionals in the legal sector for nearly 10 years and therefore has experience in various sectors including personal injury, family, property, etc. They transcribe recorded dictation from digital recordings, CDs, analogue cassette tapes, DVDs which are converted into electronic documents and returned to the client via e-mail, including such documents as file notes, letters, telephone notes, statements and police interviews. Their team of experienced UK-based typists work during the day/evenings and at weekends aiming to complete work within 24 hours and provide an excellent standard of grammar, spelling and punctuation. They offer a free trial of their services.
