We don't just "do" employment work, we specialise in it! Recognised by the Legal 500 as one of the top employment law firms in the region, we provide high-level expert advice and representation by specialist employment law solicitors, who combine a great many years of experience in dedicated employment law practice. Our partners, Laurence Dunn and Daryl Cowan, and their team offer a bespoke service to both commercial and private clients, providing tailor-made solutions to workplace issues. We pride ourselves on getting to know how organisations operate and in cultivating strong relationships, so as to enable us to provide a pragmatic, realistic and cost-effective approach to legal issues. We never say "you can't do that". Instead, we discuss the options available to clients, together with the associated risk, so that they can make informed decisions guided by our expertise.
